ERSA Workshop
Financial Instability: an Emerging Market
Perspective
26 & 27 March 2009

Call for Papers

ERSA in collaboration with the Wits Business School is pleased to announce a 1.5 day workshop on 'Financial Instability: an Emerging Market Perspectives' to take place at The Spier Hotel, Stellenbosch.

The workshop will serve as a forum to discuss the implications of current international financial instability on emerging market economies and to present ongoing research on the issue. The programme will include the presentation of 8-10 academic papers, a policy panel discussion and a special session with Professor Barry Eichengreen of the University of Berkley.

The organizers are looking for both theoretical and empirical studies and would welcome any work in progress that present interesting preliminary results on the issue.

Submission:

Please submit papers or extended abstracts (2-3 pages) as pdf-file together with full contact details by 13 February 2009 to:

Tania.jacobs@uct.ac.za

ERSA can guarantee financial support to cover travel and accommodation expenses to one research active member of any South African economics department wishing to attend the workshop: Further financial support may be provided on request.

Please send your nominations, giving academic affiliation and areas of interest to Tania Jacobs at ERSA by 13 February 2009.
